

Basic Detail Report

---

Plough Inn Lordship Lane c.1800 / Greyhound Dulwich Village c. 1870

Date

c. 1870

Primary Maker

Anonymous

Medium

Lithograph

Description

Probably a book illustration. Both pubs date from at least the 18th century and were former stopping places for coaches to and from London. Both have been much rebuilt. The Plough stands opposite Dulwich Library, while The Greyhound is now The Crown and Greyhound and has moved to 73 Dulwich Village. Originally these two pubs, the oldest in Dulwich, faced each other across the street.