

St. Giles Vicarage Camberwell

Date

1963

Primary Maker

Russell Reeve

Medium

Water-colour

Description

Facing the church across Camberwell Church Street, this fine Victorian building in extensive grounds was demolished in the 1960s to build social housing and the St. Giles Centre. Among eminent incumbents of the vicarage was Festus Kelly, father of Sir Gerald Kelly (1879-1972), President of the Royal Academy 1949-54.

Dimensions

Object/Work: 660.4 x 495.3 mm