Basic Detail Report

Weapon

Date

1800-1850

Medium

Wood, teeth, coir, human hair

Description

Weapon or instrument bound with fine black hair and coconut fibres and set with shark's teeth. The Cuming original catalogue entry notes that this item is called a "Pappaneeheamano, an instrument used by the natives as a weapon of offence and defence and also to cut up their prisoners." Micronesia.

Dimensions

Object/Work: 185 x 185 mm