

Sabot

Date
1800-1840

Medium
Beechwood

Description
Clog-shaped shoes called "sabots". They are made of dark beech wood. The heels have edges flaring outwards and pointed toes. These sturdy shoes are peasant footwear from France, possibly Breton. Wooden clogs like these however are found in many parts of Europe and were a common work shoe from the 16th to 19th centuries.

Dimensions
Object/Work: 58 x 73 x 220 mm