

Basic Detail Report

---

Comb

Date

43-409

Medium

Ivory

Description

Half of an ivory comb with green discoloration, probably Roman origin. Most of the teeth are missing. As it is made of ivory, this comb was likely made for a woman. It could have been used for grooming or as a hair ornament. It was found in Moorfields in 1866. London.

Dimensions

Object/Work: 5.5 x 0.3 x 6 mm