

Mustard-Pot

Date

1902

Primary Maker

King Edward VII

Medium

Ceramic

Description

Colman's Mustard Pot. One of the last objects that Henry Syer Cuming looked at and documented before his death. It is a white ceramic vessel with an orange Colman's emblem on the front. The mustard pot was produced by Coleman's mustard as a souvenir to commemorate the coronation of Edward VII as king of England on the 26th June 1902.

Dimensions

Object/Work: 70 x 57 mm